11 AM

St Andrew's Church, Ballysally. Each Sunday in the month offers a variety of service types including Informal Praise, Family Worship and Holy Communion.

this year...

9 AM

Our traditional 'said' service of Holy Communion is held within St Patrick's every Sunday [except 1st Sunday of the month].

10 AM

Daybreak is held in St Patrick's Parish Centre and is accessible to all ages and stages. It is informal, a place to meet, have breakfast and worship together—the kids go off to Sunday School, while the adults stay for further teaching and worship.

11 AM

Parish Praise offers more traditional worship lead by the church choir and the music group along side a variety of liturgies from the Prayer Book and from the wider Anglican Communion.

11 AM

St Andrew's Church, Ballysally. Each Sunday in the month offers a variety of service types including Informal Praise, Family Worship and Holy Communion.

6 PM

Our Evening Celebration in St Patrick's provides a relaxed atmosphere offering contemporary worship led by our band, systematic preaching & Spirit-led prayer ministry.

July

4 July
Eva Richards
Cello

Eva Richards took up the cello at the age of 8 and was awarded the title of Northern Ireland Young Musician of the Year in March 2013. She has performed in music festivals across Northern Ireland, and is the current instrumental champion of Ballymena, Carrickfergus, Coleraine and Holywood music festivals.

She is currently a member of the Ulster Youth Orchestra (since 2010), National Youth Orchestra of Ireland (since 2008) and the NEELB Youth Orchestra, with whom she played the Haydn Cello Concerto in C major in April 2013.

In 2012 she won the Northern Ireland Soroptomist Public Speaking competition and had the privilege of delivering her speech and giving a short cello recital to the 1300 delegates at their International Conference in Belfast's Waterfront Hall.

11 July
Philip Stopford & Jenny Heaney
Organ & Flute

Philip Stopford began his musical career as a Chorister at Westminster Abbey. After winning a major Music Scholarship to Bedford School, he became Organ Scholar at Truro Cathedral, the original home of the Nine Lessons and Carols Service, playing the organ for services. Philip went on to Oxford University to study music at Keble College, where he was also Organ Scholar. In 1999 to 2000 Philip was appointed Organ Scholar at Canterbury Cathedral and was appointed Director of Music at St Anne's Cathedral, Belfast in January 2003. Philip currently devotes his time to choral composition and conducting, offering commissions and workshops globally.

Jenny discovered her love of the flute at an early age. She studied with Colin Fleming and Colin Irvine, recently graduating in performance music from Queen's University Belfast. She teaches flute to young people at both primary and secondary level and also performs regularly.

18 July
Coda Horns
French Horn

Coda Horns originate from Co Down, Armagh and Antrim, are four highly experienced musicians and perform regularly with various ensembles. Louise Edwards leads the group, has been playing from aged six and holds a MMus(Perf) from the Conservatoire of Scotland. She currently works for the WELB Music Service and occasionally plays with the Ulster Orchestra. Horn two is Sonia Kenny, who has been playing from aged eight, holds a BMus(Hons) from Queen's University and is currently an Area Co-ordinator for the SELB Music Service. Naaimh Mathers, third Horn, has been playing from aged 11, holds a BMus(Hons) from Queen's University and currently teaches for the SELB Music Service. Fourth Horn is Laura Salt, who began playing aged 14, holds a BMus (Hons), a PGCE and currently teaches for the BELB.

25 July
Scott Heron and Thomasena Hall
Cello & Piano

Scott Heron was born in Belfast, and began studying cello at the age of ten. As a freelance player in Ireland, Scott has played with numerous orchestras including the RTE Symphony Orchestra, RTE Concert Orchestra, Ulster Orchestra and Camerata Ireland. He was a member of the contemporary music group 'The Brian Irvine Ensemble' for 10 years, and is currently the director of the 'Spike People Cello Choir'.

Thomasena Hall began playing clarinet at the age of 8, the following year she started taking accordion lessons. She was UK Accordion Polka Champion for 3 consecutive years (under 16) and for two years at senior level. She studied at the University of Ulster - Magee, graduating in 2007 with a BMus and an MMus in 2008.

Since graduating she has worked with the NEELB music service teaching woodwind and brass, as well as opening her own Accordion School and starting an Accordion Orchestra known as the Latharna Accordion Group.

August

1 August
Paul Berry, Gillian McCutcheon and Mark McGrath
'Music for Two Clarinets'

Gillian was born in Bangor, County Down and began playing the clarinet at the age of 10. Some time later she read for her BMus at Edinburgh University. Since graduating, Gillian has been much sought after as a freelance orchestral player and has given numerous BBC recitals.

Although an engineer by profession, Paul continues to teach and play the clarinet, working as a clarinet tutor for the Belfast School of Music. As a recitalist, he has performed at venues throughout Ireland including the Ulster Museum and Hillsborough Castle.

Mark is an accomplished pianist, organist and teacher. He is currently Director of Music in St Finian's Parish, Cregagh, having held positions in St George's Church, Belfast and St Martin-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Square.

8 August
Gail Evans & Gemma Prince
Soprano & Piano

Gail Evans, from Mid-Ulster, has always been a keen pianist, developing her skills whilst studying at the University of Ulster under the tutelage of Stephanie Hughes (piano) and Desmond Hunter (organ and harpsichord), as well as privately with Elizabeth Bicker, who encouraged her interest in accompaniment. After University, Gail embarked on a career as a Music teacher within the education sector, but ten years later decided on a change of direction. She was appointed as Associate Accompanist with Belfast Philharmonic Choir and Phil Kids in 2009 and répétiteur to the University of Ulster choir in 2010. Gail is now a full-time accompanist, having been appointed to the Belfast Philharmonic Society in 2011, also playing for NI Opera, and TOSINI (Teachers of Singing in Ireland), the Ulster Youth Choir, festivals and private recitals.

Gemma Prince is a soprano from Dungannon and has recently graduated with a Masters Degree in Vocal and Opera Studies from the Royal Northern College of Music in Manchester where she studied with Lynne Dawson and received an entrance award and the Dame Eva Turner Award for Potential Dramatic Soprano. She has recently completed a year as a Young Artist with NI Opera and currently studies with Mary Plazas. Over the last few years she has been involved in performances with the Celtic Tenors, BBC Radio Ulster Sounds Classical, the Mary Wakefield Festival in Kendal, and a performance in the Ulster Hall for their 150 Years Anniversary Celebration.

15 August
Ian Mills
Organ

Ian Mills was appointed Organist and Master of the Choristers at St Columb's Cathedral in 2006—the UK's youngest Cathedral organist. He enjoys a busy freelance career as a choral director, teacher and accompanist, holding teaching positions at Queen's University and St Malachy's College, as well as directing his chamber choir Renaissance. Ian maintains a strong academic interest in the music of JS Bach and is writing a PhD thesis focusing on the composer's chorale-based organ music.

22 August
Pupils of Peter Wilson
Various

Peter Wilson completed a BMus degree at Queen's University Belfast in 1976 and has been teaching music both in Friends' School Lisburn and Portadown College. He and his family moved to the delightful North Coast 13 Years ago and Peter then set up a large private practice working both in Coleraine High School and at his home. He specialises not only in piano tuition but also in the field of Music Theatre and his pupils range from 6 to 60 years old (or perhaps older but we don't disclose details!) He considers it a pleasure to be able to use St Patrick's as a venue for a few of his pupils to air their talents.

29 August
Jonathan & Lucy Drennan
Violin & Piano

Lucy Drennan is well known locally as the previous Associate Leader of the Ulster Orchestra, a position she held from 1997-2010.

As a senior orchestral musician, Lucy has worked closely with many household names, including, Luciano Pavarotti, Dame Kiri Te Kanawa, Katherine Jenkins, and Julian Lloyd Webber.

Lucy is accompanied by her husband, Jonathan Drennan, a performer and academic of international standing. As a freelance pianist and organist, Jonathon has recorded extensively with the BBC. He is currently organist and director of music at St Patrick's Church of Ireland, Ballymena.
