

Pastoral Care around sensitive issues

DIOCESE OF CONNOR

A seminar for clergy, pastoral visitors and youth leaders

Dr Dickie Barr—Love for Life

10.00 am—3.30 pm (lunch included)

Antrim Parish Halls, Railway Street, Antrim, BT41 4AE
(There is parking very close, but there is a small cost, less than £1)

Tuesday 24th May

Biblical Guidelines

- What does the Bible say about sex?

Worldviews in Conflict

- What is the current cultural perspective around sex and does this concur or conflict with a Biblical model?

A Pastoral Response

- How do we respond pastorally to the situations we face in our church communities. This section will look at some practical scenarios.

The workshop will be interactive and is open to any within the church who are involved in pastoral work in the church.

Dr Dickie Barr is married to Janice and we have 6 children ranging from 15 to 24. He is currently working in General Practice in Moira and have contributed in the past to Pastoral Care training in Belfast Bible College. He also has been involved for many years with Love for Life, a charitable organisation with the vision of influencing change within society so that young people have a healthy respect for themselves, relationships and sex. He enjoys football, being an ardent Liverpool supporter and follow my daughters every Saturday as they play hockey. As a family they worship at St Saviours in Dollingstown.

For further information contact Peter Hamill, Diocesan Training Co-ordinator on 91857827 or email peter.traincoord@connor.anglican.org

Pastoral Care around sensitive issues

I wish to attend the seminar on Tuesday 24th May and I will bring ___ other people with me

Name _____ Parish _____ Contact No _____

Any special dietary requirements?

Please return this slip to Mrs Rosemary Patterson, Bishop's Secretary, Church of Ireland House, 61-67 Donegall Street, Belfast, BT1 2QH or email patterson@diocoff-belfast.org by Friday 20th May 2011