Dr Phil Meadows is an ordained presbyter in the British Methodist Church. He was lecturer in theology and religious studies at Westminster College, Oxford, before spending six years as E. Stanley Jones Professor of Evangelism at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, near Chicago, in the USA. He is currently lecturer in Missiology and Wesleyan Studies at Cliff College, Derbyshire. Phil's research and publication interests combine theology, spirituality and discipleship in the Wesleyan tradition with the missionary challenges of contemporary culture. He is also a co-founder and director of the Inspire Network, which is an ecumenical movement seeking to resource mission-shaped discipleship in the leadership and life of the church. In his spare time, he loves to be in the countryside walking, running, and riding his bicycle.

Sam Meadows is gifted in pastoral and evangelistic ministry. In addition to being a full time mum, she has served as Community Pastor at Holmebrook Valley Church, and is part of the Eldership Team, with special responsibilities for oversight of children's ministry. Sam is a co-founder of the Inspire Network along with Phil, and is leading the development of inspire4kids resources, helping children become mission-shaped disciples as well. Sam and Phil have four children: Daniel (turning 19), Tabitha (16), Timothy (turning 12), and Ben (7). Sam does not have much spare time, but does enjoy craft work and walking in the beautiful countryside around Chesterfield when she gets the chance!

Morna Allen has a Masters in Mission and Evangelism with a research focus on mission and the Celtic church. For the last 3 years she has been lecturing in Christian History at Cliff College; and is part of both the Inspire prayer team and the steering group. A natural evangelist, Morna also has a real passion for the prophetic and is the prayer ministry leader at Holmebrook Valley Church in Chesterfield, Derbyshire. Another passion is singing and she often joins her husband, Gary, in his ministry of worship leading. She has two boys, Joshua who is 3 ½ and Samuel who just turned 2yrs. Both are looking forward to spending time with their cousin Evelyn in County Wicklow while Mummy and Daddy are busy for the weekend.

Gary Allen was originally a Land Surveyor by profession but felt called to study theology. Currently he is on the leadership team at Holmebrook Valley Church and has specific responsibilities for leading worship, but is also developing a men's ministry. He is passionate about film and music and will graduate this summer with a Masters in Mission, Leadership and Renewal from Cliff College. Not surprisingly, his research focus was on theology and film. Like Morna, he is part of the steering group for Inspire; and additionally serves as one of the planning team. The steering group is responsible for ensuring that the Inspire network emerges as a vibrant ecumenical movement, to fulfill its vision of developing mission spirituality in the leadership and life of the church.
