

FAITH

IN EVERYDAY LIVING SERIES

For Church of Ireland & Methodist Church in Ireland members.

Designed to encourage theological reflection, fellowship and discussion on “everyday” discipleship matters, the “Faith in Everyday Living series”, will run on separate dates in both Belfast and Dublin. For the first time, training for the laity will utilise both the Church of Ireland Theological Institute in Dublin and Edgehill Theological College, Belfast. The series will look at the following themes...

- Praying Well, an exploration on how to deepen one’s experience of prayer and “styles” of prayer. Facilitated by Louise Wilson (Training & Development Officer, ETC) and David Brown, (Lay Training Co-ordinator, CITI).
- Parenting Well, a one day workshop exploring how to best “parent” teenagers. In partnership with Love for Life, Northern Ireland’s leading Christian Young People’s support agency.
- Working Well, an evening workshop for those interested in exploring how Christian faith impacts within the work place, Guest Speaker, Mr David Blevins, Sky News Ireland Correspondent.
