

The Lost Glasses

You will need

A pair of glasses

2 leaders

Leader 1 comes in and welcomes the children and says that leader 2 will be coming soon and will be explaining what they are going to do that morning.

Leader 2 enters looking a bit distracted and looks all around as s/he approaches. S/he has a pair of glass on top of his/her head.

Leader 1: Oh hi [names Leader 2], glad you're here. I was just telling everyone that you'll be telling us what we're doing this morning.

Leader 2: [looking all around] Hi [names Leader 1] Yes, I'm going to do that in just a few wee seconds. I'm just looking for something important. I will be with you as soon as I can [walks over to a table with some papers on it].

Leader 1: Oh ok, no problem that's fine we don't mind waiting. I wonder though, can I be of any help?

Leader 2: Hmmmm? Help? Oh eh, no, no shouldn't take long, they are here somewhere... [lifts up pages, looks under the table]... its amazing how things just disappear, I mean they were here a minute ago. I was sure I had them in here earlier. [Sighs] I went to the bathroom, but I have already checked there and no joy....

Leader 1: What is it you have lost? Perhaps we can all have a look around...

Leader 2: [comes and stands beside leader 1 in front of the children]. It's my glasses, I have the notes for this morning's session, but I can't read them without my glasses, and I know there are a few important things I needed to say....

Leader 1: Oh! Aren't those your glasses on top of.....

Leader 2: [interrupting] MY BAG! That's it I remember now. I put them in my bag for safekeeping!

Leader 2 keeps a continual flow of chat going so that leader 1 can't get a word in

I'm always losing them, so I said to myself, 'put them in your bag and you won't forget where they are'.... [starts rummaging in bag] ..... and of course, what did I do? I forgot I had put them there!..... [starts pulling things out of the bag and setting them on the table] haha.....don't worry... they are here somewhere... Talk amongst yourselves..... Oh dear where are they?...

Leader 1: Em... could that be them on your head?

Leader 2: [not listening to leader 1] HAHHHH! I've just remembered I took them out of my bag because I got a text message and I couldn't see it without my glasses. So no, they're not in my bag but don't worry, they are here somewhere... emmmm..... [begins to look around again]

Leader 1: [shouting] THEY'RE ON YOUR HEAD!

Unit 5 Week 2

Leader 2: What? No! [feels for them on head and finds] Ah-ha! Here they are! Now why didn't anyone tell me that earlier! They were on my head all along!

Oh, and I remember now what today's story is! It's all about a lady who lost something very precious!
